

Name: STEVE PEREZ

Occupation:

To the residents of Anaheim, my name is Steve Perez and I grew up here in Anaheim. In all honesty, I've been planning to run for city council all my life. It is indeed amazing that a young man can attempt to make something of himself in this, the City of Anaheim, and it is even more amazing that he can do so by trying to make his home a better and safer place.

The City of Anaheim is a large and complex city. It's grown far too easy for the average family to fall through the cracks. Our classrooms have more and more students in less and less space. Disneyland has decided that it can call the shots in this town, by getting involved in our political issues. And to add fuel to the fire, our dire economic times seem only to compound these problems.

As a council member I'll create economic buffers, that will serve to protect Anaheim's economy from the negative effects of globalization. I will adamantly support viable and effective green projects. I promise to help rid the city of pointless regulations and taxes. Thank you for your support, and God Bless America.
