INVESTMENT ACTIVITIES

The City Treasurer's Investment Portfolio has a current rating of "AAf" from Standard and Poor's (S&P). This rating was effective August 8, 2011, as a result of the action of S&P downgrading the debt issues of the United States Treasury and Federal Agencies from a credit rating of "AAA" to "AA+". The credit rating reflects the investment holdings of the City's Investment Portfolio (approximately 58% of funds in Federal Agency issues) and not the management of the investment fund.

It should be pointed out the downgrade in credit rating is the sole action of Standard and Poor’s, since the other two major national credit firms of Moody’s Investor Services and Fitch Ratings have maintained the “AAA” credit rating on all U.S. Treasury and Federal Agency debt issues. Even with the credit downgrade to the investment portfolio, the investment portfolio is still eligible and qualifies as a ‘permitted investment’ for City bond funds (i.e., project or acquisition funds).

This credit rating is for the City’s investment portfolio and does NOT reflect the credit rating of the City’s bond issues.

On August 11, 2008, the City of Anaheim’s Investment Policy was recognized and certified by the Association of Professional Treasurers of the United States and Canada (APT US&C) as meeting all standards and criteria established by the APT US&C.

INVESTMENT ENVIRONMENT

The month of November 2011 continued to find the financial markets stressed over the continuing debt crisis in Europe. As reported on Bloomberg financial system, the European banking system “. . . has been dealing for more than a year with the financial instability of Greece and the other so-called PIIGS nations – Portugal, Ireland, Italy and Spain.” Further escalation of the tentative financial situation shows a large number of European banks, including those in France, are under scrutiny by major credit rating firms and brokerage houses as to the strength of their capitalization. As the market tries to evaluate the increase in risk, the interest of sovereign bonds have climbed – the ten year Greek bond is around 26 percent, the Italian ten year bond is over 6 percent, the Spanish bond is over five percent and the French ten year bond is over 3 per cent. For comparison, the United States Treasury ten year bond is yielding approximately 1.97 percent. Economists are forecasting a economic recession in Europe for calendar year 2012

This ongoing issue is causing concern of a possible collapse of the European bond market and has investors seeking a safe haven for their funds. Consequently, even with the S&P downgrade of U.S Treasury debt issues to ‘AA+’ (note that Moody’s and Fitch still list U.S. Treasury debt as ‘AAA’) investors have been heavily purchasing U.S. issued debt in a “flight to quality.” There is no other market in the world that provides the efficiencies and volume of funds than the United States financial markets and U.S. Treasury issues. This “flight to quality” in investment securities has lowered yields on all U.S. Treasury debt to historic low levels.

Associating the slow-growth of the U.S. economy with the European crisis, the Federal Reserve has continued a program of maintaining short-term interest rates at current low levels to attempt to provide stimulus for the economy. Federal Reserve Chairman Bernanke has announced he intends to keep rates at these levels through mid-year 2013. The chart below shows the interest rates for U. S. Treasury issues for the month ending November 2011:

Source: Bloomberg Financial Systems

Please note the November 30, 2011 yield on the 3 month Treasury Bill was 0.00 percent as the result of this concern to “fix” the European financial issue. The Federal Reserve announced at the November 2, 2011 ‘Federal Open Market Committee’ (FOMC) meeting that the ‘target’ Federal Funds rate would remain at the range of 0.0% to 0.25%, citing continued “risk to growth” to the economy. This key market interest rate has remained at this level since the FOMC meeting on December 16, 2008. The Federal Funds interest rate is the interest rate that banks charge other banks to borrow money.

Against this backdrop, the economic data for the U.S. economy continues to show signs of a slow recovery that began in the spring of 2009. A key economic indicator is the national unemployment rate, which tends to show the overall health of the national economy. For the month of November 2011, the national unemployment rate was reported at 8.6%, a decrease from October’s level of 9.0%. The major one month decline could be the indication of an improving employment environment or a reflection on seasonal part-time workers for the holidays. A stronger indication would be the subsequent unemployment rates in January and February of 2012.

The unemployment rate is considered a “lagging” economic indicator and does not reflect immediate or current financial and economic events. The unemployment rate does indicate the level of idle workers as a percentage of the overall labor force. The chart below shows the national unemployment rate for the past twelve months:

A second economic factor we review is the monthly Retail Sales (less Autos), which measures the level of consumer spending and provides an indication of the underlying vitality of the overall national economy. At the time of this monthly report, the November 2011 retail sales data had not been released, however, the October 2011 data indicates the consumer is continuing to spend but at marginally lower levels in the past four months. The chart below shows the monthly increase in consumer spending for the past twenty four months.

The City’s investment portfolio remains strongly diversified and invested in high credit quality issues of U.S. Treasuries, Federal Agencies, Medium Term Corporate Notes and high grade commercial paper. Investments in money market accounts are restricted to U.S. Treasury and Federal Agencies only and a review of the State of California Local Agency Investment Fund (LAIF) shows high levels of liquidity and safe investments. The City’s investment strategy continues to focus on safety and providing liquidity for the City’s operational requirements.

INVESTMENT PERFORMANCE

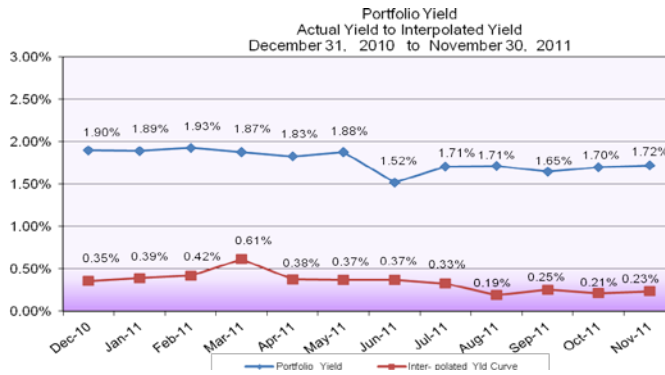

For November 2011, the City Treasurer’s Investment Portfolio performance was:

	Amount of Funds (Market Value)	Maturity	Effective Yield	Interpolated Yield	Total Return Monthly	Total Return Annual
Short-Term Portfolio	$ 92,886,921	4 days	0.28 %	0.00 %	0.023	0.375
Long-Term Portfolio	$ 284,326,047	2.4 years	2.20 %	0.31 %	-0.053	2.573
Total Portfolio	$ 377,212,968	1.8 years	1.72 %	0.23 %	-0.034	2.147

The portfolio balance reflects a deposit of $76,825,377 for acquisition funds from the 2011A Electric Bonds. As a “AA” credit rated portfolio, we are recognized as a permitted investment by the bond indenture of the above bonds. These funds enjoy the advantage of superior market rates of return in a historically low interest rate environment.

Please note the use of interpolated yield values and total return values are guidelines and not used in the performance evaluation of the portfolio. The investment of public funds is exposed to a large range of variable factors, such as increases or decreases in revenues and expenditures as well as seasonal timing, which can affect the cash flow of the City.
