INVESTMENT ACTIVITIES

The City Treasurer's Investment Portfolio has a current credit rating of "AAf" from Standard and Poor's (S&P). This rating was effective August 8, 2011, as a result of the action of S&P downgrading the debt issues of the United States Treasury and Federal Agencies from a credit rating of "AAA" to "AA+". The credit rating reflects the investment holdings of the City's Investment Portfolio (approximately 55% of funds in Federal Agency issues) and not the management of the investment fund.

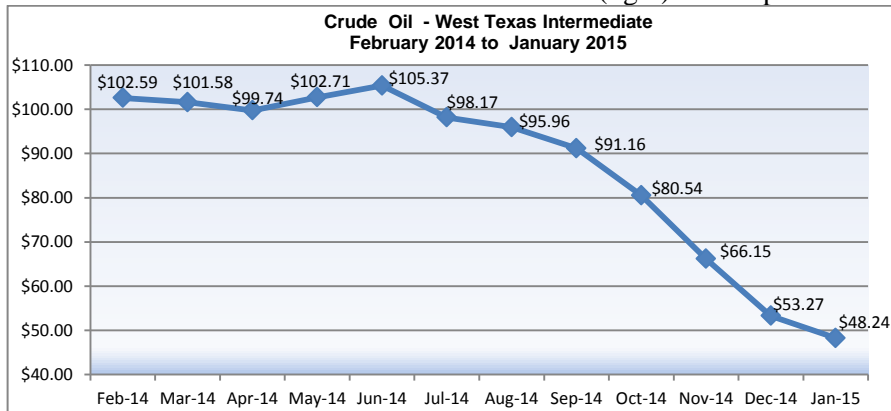

This credit rating is for the City's investment portfolio and does NOT reflect the credit rating of the City's bond issues.

On August 11, 2008, the City of Anaheim's Investment Policy was recognized and certified by the Association of Professional Treasurers of the United States and Canada (APT US&C) as meeting all standards and criteria established by the APT US&C.

INVESTMENT ENVIRONMENT:

The month of January 2015 continued with deflationary news and volatility in the financial markets. The continued weakness in world economies coupled with the increasing value of the U.S. Dollar over world currencies, particularly the Euro, has some concern about future economic growth for the U.S. economy. A stronger dollar makes our exports more expensive and slow economic growth has placed downward pressure on commodity prices.

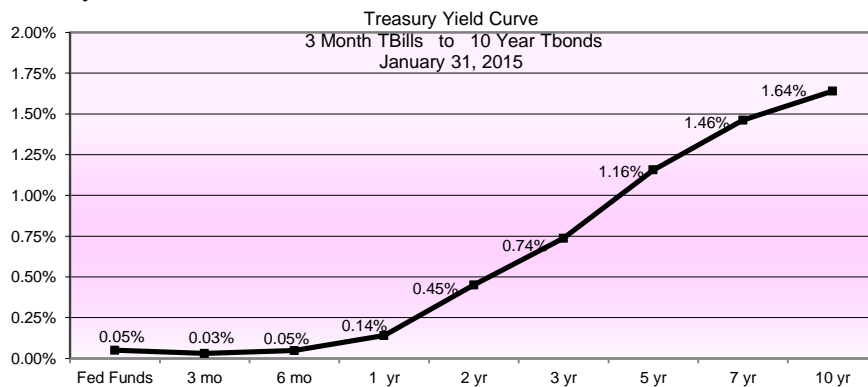

The price of crude oil's benchmark West Texas Intermediate Crude has dropped from $105.37 per barrel at the end of June 2014 to $48.24 per barrel at the close of January 31, 2015, a decrease of $52.10 or nearly 55%. The sharp price decrease in this key commodity reflects the reduced demand from worldwide users. The following graph shows the price of the benchmark West Texas Intermediate Crude (light) for the past twelve months.

Interest rates in January 2015 showed an elevated concern for safety with the growing volatility in the financial markets. The U.S. Treasury six month bills closed January at 0.05%, down from the December close of 0.12%. The larger decrease in interest rates was indicated with the two year U.S.TNote closing the month at 0.45%, down 22 basis points (0.22%) from the December level of 0.67%.

The Federal Reserve at their January 28, 2015 Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) meeting kept the benchmark Federal Funds rate at 0 to 0.25%. The chart below shows the interest rates for U.S. Treasury issues for the month ending January 2015:

Source: Bloomberg Financial Systems

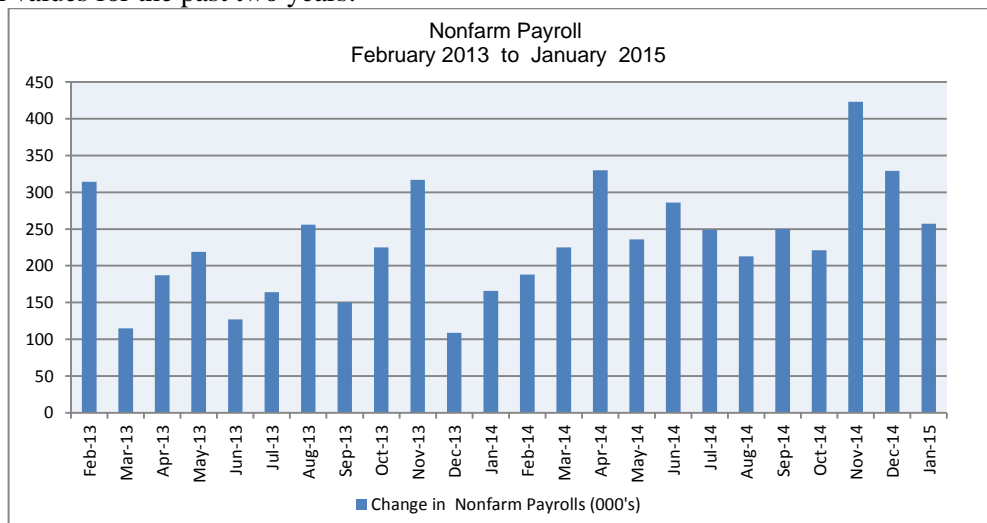

A key economic indicator watched by investors and the news media is the national unemployment rate, which tends to show the overall health of the national economy. For the month of January 2015, the national unemployment rate was reported at 5.7%, up 0.1% from December 2014. The twelve month average is at 6.1%, which is significantly lower from the December 2013 average level of 7.4%. The unemployment rate is considered a “lagging” economic indicator and does not reflect immediate or current financial and economic events. The chart below shows the national unemployment rate for the past twelve months:

Source: U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics

A more accurate gauge of the employment sector and the improving economy is the amount of jobs being created. The Bureau of Labor Statistics publishes monthly the value of US Employees on nonfarm payrolls, which is an indication of how the corporate or business sector is hiring. For the month of January 2015, the nonfarm payroll number was reported to be 257,000 new jobs created. For comparison, the December 2014 value was revised upward to 329,000 new jobs from the previous reported value of 252,000.

The annual (twelve month average) value with the revised values shows approximately 267,000 monthly new jobs are being created, which is above the value of 165,000 new monthly jobs that economists have said are needed to show sustained economic growth. It should be noted the nonfarm payroll values are subject to seasonal variations and revisions, making an analysis of a distinct trend in this indicator difficult at times. The chart below shows the nonfarm payroll values for the past two years:

Source: U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics

Another economic factor we watch is the monthly Retail Sales (less Autos), which measures the level of consumer spending and provides an indication of the underlying vitality of the overall national economy. The January 2015 retail sales (less autos) values were not available at the time this report was prepared. For December 2014, the annualized retail sales value was released at $351.9 billion, a monthly decrease of $3.5 billion or minus 0.9% from the November 2014 revised value of $355.4 billion. The decrease is cause for concern for future growth, since the month of December is a heavy month for retail sales due to the holidays.

The annualized increase, year to year, showed a percentage increase of only 1.9%. The incremental increase shows the economy continues to expand, however, at a potentially slower pace than was earlier predicted. It is estimated that consumer spending accounts for nearly seventy percent of economic activity, so an increase in retail sales can indicate expanding economic activity. The chart below shows the monthly increase in consumer spending for the past twenty four months:

INVESTMENT PERFORMANCE:

The City’s investment portfolio remains strongly diversified and invested in high credit quality issues of U.S. Treasuries, Federal Agencies, Medium Term Corporate Notes and high grade commercial paper. Investments in money market accounts are restricted to U.S. Treasury and Federal Agencies only and a review of the State of California Local Agency Investment Fund (LAIF) shows high levels of liquidity and safe investments. The City’s investment strategy continues to focus on safety and providing liquidity for the City’s operational requirements.

For January 31, 2015, the City Treasurer’s Investment Portfolio performance was:

	Amount of Funds (Market Value)	Maturity	Effective Yield	Interpolated Yield	Total Return Monthly	Total Return Annual
Short-Term Portfolio	$ 100,473,571	13 days	0.21 %	0.01 %	0.018	0.232
Long-Term Portfolio	$ 302,164,053	2.4 years	1.29 %	0.59 %	0.790	1.655
Total Portfolio	$ 402,637,624	1.8 years	1.01 %	0.38 %	0.592	1.415

The portfolio balance includes a deposit for the acquisition funds of the 2011A Electric Bonds of $1,185,120 as of the December 31, 2014 bond fund report balance. As a credit rated investment portfolio of “AA” by Standard and Poor’s, we are recognized as a permitted investment by the bond indenture of the above bonds. These funds enjoy the advantage of superior market rates of return in a historically low interest rate environment.

Please note the use of interpolated yield values and total return values are guidelines and not used in the performance evaluation of the portfolio. The investment of public funds is exposed to a large range of variable factors, such as increases or decreases in revenues and expenditures as well as seasonal timing, which can affect the cash flow of the City.

The City’s investment portfolio continues to provide above market rates of return on funds invested as shown in the following graph which shows the City’s net overall performance to a market indicator for the past twelve months:

Source: Treasurer’s Office, Anaheim

The interpolated yield curve value of 0.38% reflects current market interest rates comparable to the City’s Investment Portfolio average weighted maturity of 1.8 years as of January 31, 2015. As shown, the City’s Investment Portfolio interest earnings were 1.01% for January; approximate dollar earnings for the month of $212,726 over market interest rates. Cumulative earnings for the City portfolio earnings over market interest rates for the past twelve months are approximately $2,718,000.

A complete listing of the portfolio holdings and investment activity for the City of Anaheim’s Investment Portfolio for the month of January 2015 is on the following pages.

IMPACT ON BUDGET:

There is no budgetary impact. Interest income is allocated in various funds based on the performance of the Investment Portfolio.

Respectfully submitted,

Henry W. Stern, CTP
 City Treasurer
