INVESTMENT ACTIVITIES

The City Treasurer's Investment Portfolio received a credit rating of AAf and a volatility rating of S1 from Standard and Poor's in July 2008. The portfolio is reviewed monthly by Standard and Poor's for portfolio holdings, liquidity values and the overall management of the investment staff. Standard and Poor's reaffirmed the City's AAf credit rating during their annual July 2009 due diligence review. The City of Anaheim is only the fourth City in the country at this time to receive the prestigious credit rating.

In addition to independent verification of the high standard for the City’s investment program, the AAf credit rating is recognized by leading bond insurer's as a highly safe investment option for future City bond issues and to include the City’s portfolio as a ‘permitted investment’ in the bond covenants.

On August 11, 2008, the City of Anaheim’s Investment Policy was recognized and certified by the Association of Professional Treasurers of the United States and Canada (APT US&C) as meeting all standards and criteria established by the APT US&C.

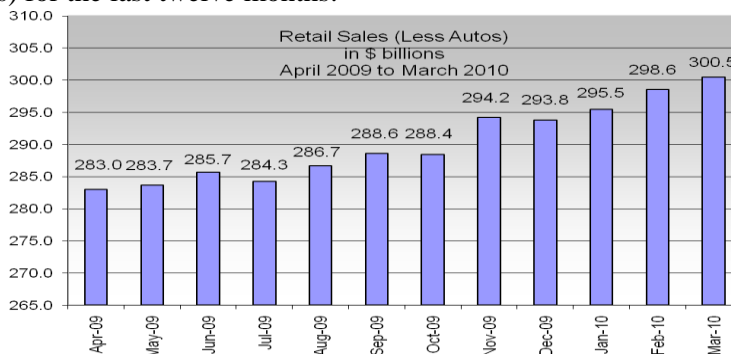

INVESTMENT ENVIRONMENT

Economic data for March 2010 continues to show marginal improvement from prior months. The economy is in the first stages of recovery; however, the released economic data is mixed, with some indicators showing favorable growing trends while other indicators continue to lag in releasing non-growth values. One economic indicator that has been a focus on the health of the overall economy is the national unemployment rate. The published rate for March 2010 was 9.7 %, unchanged from the January 2010 and February 2010 values and off the high value of 10.1% listed for October 2009. However, this indicator is considered a “lagging” economic indicator and does not reflect current economic conditions. It appears this indicator will continue to stay at the current levels for the next several months as uncertainty in other economic sectors of the economy continue to show mixed results. The chart below shows the national unemployment rate for the past twelve months:

Another key economic factor we have been monitoring is the national Retail Sales (less Autos) values, which represent the level of consumption the average person is spending. This economic indicator is more indicative of the current and potential future course of overall economic vitality as the individual consumer has historically accounted for over seventy (70) percent of economic activity in the United States economy. This strong purchasing power is the ‘engine’ that drives our overall economic health. The annualized retail sales (less autos) for March 2010 was released at $300.5 billion, up from April 2009 low of $283.0 billion in annualized sales. The latest twelve month average shows a value of nearly $290.4 billion and a continuing rising trend in consumer consumption. These values suggest the core consumption economy is stable and is starting to recover. The following chart shows Retail Sales (less Autos) for the last twelve months:

Interest rates for the month ending March 2010 rose close to levels seen in late December 2009. The Federal Reserve’s ‘Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) meeting on March 16, 2010 continued to reaffirm the benchmark Federal Funds rate at the range of 0.0% to 0.25%. This key market interest rate has remained at this level since the FOMC meeting on December 16, 2008. The statement issued by the FOMC to justify the low interest rates is a “risk to growth” in the overall economy. The Federal Funds interest rate is the interest rate that banks charge other banks to borrow money. The Fed has continued to indicate that with the slow economic recovery and absence of evidence of sustainability, their posture is to hold short term interest rates at current levels for the foreseeable future. A majority of economists and market participants do not anticipate an increase in interest rates until late in the calendar year.

The close of March 2010 saw interest rates move dramatically in the short intermediate range, with the two year Treasury Note ending March at 1.02%, versus February 2010 level of 0.82%, a 24 percent increase. The rise in rates continued with the five year U.S. Treasury closing March at 2.55% (versus February’s 2.30%) and the ten year U.S. Treasury Note yielding 3.83% for March (versus February’s 3.61%). Interest rates have traded in a range for the past twelve months and we do not anticipate any further material rise in interest rates until either inflationary pressures increase or the Federal Reserve changes its current strategy. The chart below shows the interest rates for U. S. Treasury issues for month ending March 2010:

The City’s investment portfolio remains strongly diversified and invested in high credit quality issues of U.S. Treasuries, Federal Agencies, Medium Term Corporate Notes and high grade commercial paper. Investments in money market accounts are restricted to U.S. Treasury and Federal Agencies only and a review of the State of California Local Agency Investment Fund (LAIF) shows high levels of liquidity and safe investments. The City’s investment strategy continues to focus on safety and providing liquidity for the City’s operational requirements.

INVESTMENT PERFORMANCE

For March 2010, the City Treasurer’s Investment Portfolio performance was:

	Amount of Funds (Market Value)	Maturity	Effective Yield	Interpolated Yield	Total Return Monthly	Total Return Annual
Short-Term Portfolio	$ 111,849,550	11 days	0.31 %	0.15 %	0.023	0.483
Long-Term Portfolio	$ 247,962,523	2.3 years	2.63 %	1.15 %	-0.028	3.710
Total Portfolio	$ 359,812,073	1.6 years	1.90 %	0.75 %	-0.012	2.898

Please note the use of interpolated yield values and total return values are guidelines and not used in the performance evaluation of the portfolio. The investment of public funds is exposed to a large range of variable factors, such as increases or decreases in revenues and expenditures as well as seasonal timing, which can affect the cash flow of the City.

The City’s investment portfolio continues to provide a market rate of return on funds as shown in the following graph which shows the City’s net overall performance to a market indicator for the past thirteen months:
