INVESTMENT ACTIVITIES

The City Treasurer’s Investment Portfolio has a current rating of “AAf” from Standard and Poor’s (S&P). This rating was effective August 8, 2011, as a result of the action of S&P downgrading the debt issues of the United States Treasury and Federal Agencies from a credit rating of “AAA” to “AA+”. The credit rating reflects the investment holdings of the City’s Investment Portfolio (approximately 62% of funds in Federal Agency issues) and not the management of the investment fund.

It should be pointed out the downgrade in credit rating is the sole action of Standard and Poor’s, since the other two major national credit firms of Moody’s Investor Services and Fitch Ratings have maintained the “AAA” credit rating on all U.S. Treasury and Federal Agency debt issues. Even with the credit downgrade to the investment portfolio, the investment portfolio is still eligible and qualifies as a ‘permitted investment’ for City bond funds (i.e., project or acquisition funds).

This credit rating is for the City’s investment portfolio and does NOT reflect the credit rating of the City’s bond issues.

On August 11, 2008, the City of Anaheim’s Investment Policy was recognized and certified by the Association of Professional Treasurers of the United States and Canada (APT US&C) as meeting all standards and criteria established by the APT US&C.

INVESTMENT ENVIRONMENT

The month of March 2012 showed some volatility in interest rates as the financial crises in Europe attempts to correct itself. The biggest increase in interest rates was seen in the longer maturity Treasury debt issues, with the benchmark ten year Treasury bond closing the month of March at 2.22%, an increase of nearly a quarter percentage point from the February 2012 closing level of 1.96%. The Federal Reserve continues to their resolve of maintaining interest rates at historic low levels until the economic recovery can be self sustaining.

The United States financial markets continue to attract financial assets as the global economies face newly proscribed austerity programs and slower economic activity. The Federal Reserve concerns that the U.S. economic recovery could be jeopardized with world financial events, has continued to maintain low short-term interest rates to avoid stalling the recovery. At their Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) meeting of March 13, 2012, the key Federal Funds interest rate remained unchanged at a target range of 0.0% to 0.25% with the continued focus statement of “risk to growth”. The Federal Funds rate was reduced to this target range at the December 2008 FOMC meeting. The Federal Funds interest rate is the interest rate that banks charge other banks to borrow money.

Federal Reserve Chairman Bernanke has announced he intends to keep rates at these levels through the end of calendar year 2014. The chart below shows the interest rates for U. S. Treasury issues for the month ending March 2012:

The U.S. economy continues to show signs of a slow recovery from the financial crisis of 2008. A key economic indicator we monitor is the national unemployment rate, which tends to show the overall health of the national economy. For the month of March 2012, the national unemployment rate was reported at 8.2%, down 0.1% from the February 2012 level and significantly below the annual average rate of 9.0% for the 2011 calendar year.

The unemployment rate is considered a “lagging” economic indicator and does not reflect immediate or current financial and economic events. The unemployment rate does indicate the level of idle workers as a percentage of the overall labor force. The chart below shows the national unemployment rate for the past twelve months:

Source: Bureau of Statistics, Dept of Labor

A second economic factor we review is the monthly Retail Sales (less Autos), which measures the level of consumer spending and provides an indication of the underlying vitality of the overall national economy. At the time of this monthly report, the March 2012 retail sales data had not been released, however, the February 2012 and January 2012 data showed an increase in consumer spending, providing further indications the economy is continuing a slow incremental rebound from the malaise of the past three years. The chart below shows the monthly increase in consumer spending for the past twenty four months.

Source: Census Bureau, US Government

Supporting the growth in retail sales for the past months, we see the annualized rate of auto sales has increased, as the consumer begins to spend funds on the acquisition of new cars. Financial institutions report a robust volume increase in auto leasing, with the low interest rates an extra incentive. The chart below shows the monthly annualized auto sales for the past twenty four months:

The City’s investment portfolio remains strongly diversified and invested in high credit quality issues of U.S. Treasuries, Federal Agencies, Medium Term Corporate Notes and high grade commercial paper. Investments in money market accounts are restricted to U.S. Treasury and Federal Agencies only and a review of the State of California Local Agency Investment Fund (LAIF) shows high levels of liquidity and safe investments. The City’s investment strategy continues to focus on safety and providing liquidity for the City’s operational requirements.

INVESTMENT PERFORMANCE/

For March 31, 2012, the City Treasurer’s Investment Portfolio performance was:

	Amount of Funds (Market Value)	Maturity	Effective Yield	Interpolated Yield	Total Return Monthly	Total Return Annual
Short-Term Portfolio	$ 68,764,668	18 days	0.22 %	0.04 %	0.017	0.307
Long-Term Portfolio	$ 293,380,467	2.4 years	1.97 %	0.44 %	-0.116	2.967
Total Portfolio	$ 362,145,135	2.0 years	1.63 %	0.34 %	-0.086	2.276

The portfolio balance includes a deposit, as of February 29, 2012 of $73,924,515 for acquisition funds from the 2011A Electric Bonds. As a “AA” credit rated portfolio, we are recognized as a permitted investment by the bond indenture of the above bonds. These funds enjoy the advantage of superior market rates of return in a historically low interest rate environment.

Please note the use of interpolated yield values and total return values are guidelines and not used in the performance evaluation of the portfolio. The investment of public funds is exposed to a large range of variable factors, such as increases or decreases in revenues and expenditures as well as seasonal timing, which can affect the cash flow of the City.

The City’s investment portfolio continues to provide above market rates of return on funds invested as shown in the following graph which shows the City’s net overall performance to a market indicator for the past twelve months:
